UWA Emergency Action Plan

Tennis Emergency Procedure (Howard R. Vaughan Tennis Complex)
1. When an injury occurs, the athletic trainers should go on to the court to evaluate the injured athlete. If the injury is life threatening, one of the athletic trainers should use an onsite cellular phone or the telephone located in the UWA Student Union Building at the Fitness and Wellness desk to activate the local EMS service and inform them of the emergency. Also, call the head athletic trainer or one of the senior staff athletic trainers and tell them of the injury. He/she should then report back to the attending athletic trainer.
2. While one athletic trainer is enacting the EMS system the attending athletic trainer should do a primary survey and check the level of consciousness, if possible, or if the case of a head or spinal injury hold c-spine and wait. After the non-attending athletic trainer enacts the EMS system and has reported to the attending athletic trainer, he/she should help the attending athletic trainer do a primary survey and/or a secondary survey on the athlete. When that is complete the non-attending student athletic trainer should go and make sure that the ambulance has easy access to the court and that all necessary gates are open via the established EMS route.
3. The attending athletic trainer must be aware that the athlete could go into shock at any time after an injury, so it is very important that the athletic trainer be able to recognize the early signs of shock and be able to manage it. The athlete should not be moved unless absolutely necessary.
4. When the ambulance arrives at the courts and the EMT's approach the athlete, the attending athletic trainer should give them all of the information gathered such as, the mechanism of injury, vital signs, time of injury, and progressing level of consciousness. When the ambulance is preparing to leave one of the athletic trainers should have a copy of the athlete's insurance and brief medical outline and leave with the athlete to go to the hospital. The attending should make sure they find out where the athlete is being taken by EMS.
